

Warning Fake e-mails

Dear Sir/Madam,

It has come to our attention that we have had an email conversation with one of our customers where a perpetrator has placed himself in our ongoing communication.

The perpetrator, who claims to be a Cromocol employee in a very credible way, informs that Cromocol payment instructions have changed.

The perpetrator has also included an updated invoice and payment instructions with the new bank details.

This represents a fraudulent attempt to elicit funds from our customers. Customers should NOT provide any information nor send any funds, to any e-mail address or account as indicated in these e-mails.

We have not changed banking account and the information given on our original invoices are valid. If you are unsure of the origin of any e-mails or invoices, please contact Cromocol Scandinavia AB directly by phone.

Also, our recommendation is that you check with your IT-department and possibly update your e-mail security.

Please spread this information within your organization.

Many thanks for your urgent attention to this matter.

Kind regards,

Cromocol Scandinavia AB
